ABDUL HAMID IS DETHRONED

His Brother, Reschad Effendi, Proclaimed Sultan.

TURKEY'S 35th SOVEREIGN

Decree of Deposition Recited That Abdul Hamid's Acts Were Contrary to Sacred Law and Set Forth a Long List of Crimes, the Whole Making a Terrible Indictment.

Constantinople, April 28.—The reign of Abdul Hamid II. ended with his deposition and the accession of his brother, Mehmed-Rechad Effendi, as Mehmed V., a variation of "Mahomet," it being considered inappropriate to assume the precise name of the prophet. Mehmed V. is the thirty-fifth sovereign of Turkey, in male descent, of the house of Osman, the founder of the empire, and the twenty-ninth sultan since the conquest of Constantinople. The two houses of parliament, meeting as a national assembly, approved the decree of deposition, which was read by the Sheikh-ul-Islam, chief of the ulemas and supreme judge on ecclesiastical questions. The document recited that Abdul Hamid's acts were contrary to the sacred law, and set forth a long list of crimes, the whole making a terrible indictment. The assembly chose Mehmed-Rechad as sultan and appointed committees to notify the dethroned sovereign and his successors of its action. The firing of 101 guns announced to the waiting people that a new sultan had been proclaimed.

The People Celebrating. Martial law was relaxed and the people have given themselves over to celebrating the victory of the Young Turk party and the end of Abdul Hamid's reign. Many buildings were illuminated and thousands of rounds were fired by the soldiers for joy.

The question of the new cabinet has not yet been settled, but it is thought that Ahmed Riza will be grand vizier, while some of his associates will probably be Hilma Pasha, the former premier, as minister of the interior; Djavid Bey as minister of finance, and Rifat Pasha as minister of foreign affairs.

The Sheikh-ul-Islam, supported by all the principal personages of the higher church administration, issued the fatwa, as the decree of deposition is called. It informed Mehmed-Rechad Effendi that he was chosen sultan by the will of the church, the will of the parliament, the will of the army and the will of the people. It admonished him to serve God and to keep the sacred law, as commanded by the prophet. This Reschad humbly promised to do.

The Sheikh-ul-Islam, it is said, personally visited the sultan and read him the decree. He informed his majesty that the question having been put in canonical form before the sheik and his associates as to whether Abdul Hamid had not forfeited the right to rule over the faithful, they had decided "Yes."

Abdul Says It's the Will of Allah. Abdul Hamid bowed his head, saying: "It is the will of Allah."

At a secret meeting of the national assembly the decree was read. It declared that Abdul Hamid II. must abdicate or be dethroned. The assembly unhesitatingly shouted: "Dethrone him."

A deputation, consisting of two senators and two deputies, thereupon visited the palace at Yildiz and communicated to the sultan the assembly's resolution. Abdul Hamid replied:

"I expected this; it is fate. My only wish is that the lives of myself and family may be safeguarded and that I may reside at the palace of Chergan, as I wish to die where I was born."

A similar deputation proceeded to the Dolmabahatche palace, in Galata, and informed Mehmed-Rechad Effendi of the nation's wish. The newly proclaimed sultan replied that he bowed to the will of the people.

Later the assembly debated the momentous question of Abdul Hamid's future residence. The suggestion that he be allowed to travel abroad was strongly opposed on the ground that it might cause complications. It was finally decided that he must remain in Constantinople.

Garman—Albright.

At the United Evangelical parsonage Mr. William H. Garman and Miss Carrie E. Albright, both of Filmore, were quietly married at high noon Saturday Ap. 24th by Rev. J. F. Flower.

DEATH OF CHAS. SMITH.

Former Treasurer of Centre County and Present Court Crier.

The citizens of Bellefonte were greatly shocked Friday morning to learn of the sudden death of one of its well known citizens, Chas. Smith, a former Treasurer of Centre county and at present, Court Crier. Mr. Smith although not in the best of health was able to be about and late Thursday afternoon walked down to Dr. Hayes office. Late in the evening he became worse and at 5 minutes of four o'clock Friday morning he suddenly passed away. Death was due to diabetes.

Charles Smith was a native of Gloucester, England, and was born September 5th, 1844. He was brought to this country by his father, Charles Smith when but five years of age. He has resided in Centre county ever since. At the breaking out of the civil war he enlisted in Company B, 45th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers. This was August 2nd 1861, Captain Henry Hales was Captain of the Company and John I. Curtin, Colonel. In September 1862 he was transferred to Company D, of which Austin Curtin was Captain. At the battle of Cold Harbor in the Wilderness June 3, 1864, he was severely wounded losing his left arm. He was mustered out of the service November 14th 1864.

He was postmaster at Unionville when a young man, later locating in Bellefonte. He served as school director for several terms, was a Justice-of-the-Peace, and in 1884 was elected County Treasurer on the Democratic ticket serving from 1884 to 1887. For many years he was engaged in the Fire Insurance business selling out a few years ago to H. E. Fenlon. When Judge Ellis L. Oryis went on the bench he appointed Mr. Smith as Court Crier which position he filled very acceptably. In fact in all positions of trust he has acquitted himself in a satisfactory manner. A man of sterling honesty, a brave soldier of the civil war, he enjoyed the confidence and respect of all who knew him. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum and Gregg Post No 95 G. A. R.

He was married to Miss Adaline Peters, who survives him with the following children, Beulah, wife of Thomas F. G. Seixas, of Philadelphia; Mully Flora, wife of James H. Harris, of Reading; Lulu Margaret, at home.

He also leaves a brother, Marshall, of South Dakota, and a sister Mrs. Sadie Wooden of Bellefonte.

The funeral took place Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the house, Rv J. Allison Platts officiated. Interment in the Union cemetery.

John Houtz of Salona, Is Seriously Injured.

John Houtz a well known resident of Salona, last Saturday was thrown from a bucking bronco and quite seriously hurt.

The bronco belongs to Samuel Tate and is used by that gentleman in delivering mail over the Salona R. F. D. route. On Saturday the animal was standing in front of the post office, saddled, and Mr. Houtz thought he would mount and take a short ride, but in mounting the little animal, it moved forward and Mr. Houtz dropped astride behind the saddle which caused the brute to resent the rider's position and started off on a bucking gait, and soon landed Mr. Houtz over its head on the hard roadway leaving him in an unconscious state from a hard bump on his head and shoulders. Bystanders hurried to him, picked him up and carried him to his home where a physician who worked with the injured man for a considerable time before any improvement in his condition was observed. He is now gradually improving but whether he fully recovers time only will tell.

Base Ball For Women.

One touch of base ball makes all Americans kin. It is good for boys and it is good for men. It is a wholesome, healthy game, and should be patronized by all. If more women forsake bridge whist, flinch, pink tea and soft cushions and turn out to watch the cleanest sport in the world there would be more robustness and fair mindedness among them.

If they would come out and expand their lungs in the fresh air by rooting for the home team there would be less work for the doctors, and their influence would be much stronger on the society of our young men. The women too would become more intelligent as they would learn the difference between first base and third base, and between pitcher and catcher and would soon know something of the rulings of an umpire.

TAFT HONORS GENERAL GRANT

Principal Speaker at Birthday Dinner in Philadelphia.

GUEST OF UNION LEAGUE

The President Was Criticised a Year Ago For Certain References to General Grant, and He Took This Opportunity to Pay a Tribute to the Soldier-President.

Philadelphia, April 28.—President Taft was the principal speaker at the Grant birthday dinner of the Union League in this city, and paid a striking tribute to the soldier-president. Mr. Taft was sharply criticised a year ago because of certain of his references to General Grant, and he took advantage of the opportunity to express anew his admiration for General Grant as a man, as a soldier and as chief executive of the United States.

At the clubhouse the president held a reception for more than an hour, some 2000 of the Union League members shaking hands with him. The banquet hall of the club, where about 300 sat at the tables, was profusely decorated with flowers, flags and electric lights.

General Horace Porter, of New York, and President James Hope, of the Union League, were among the speakers who preceded President Taft.

The president spoke at times in a half quizzical manner, and there was frequent laughter as well as applause at his reference to political conditions in the south.

After making complimentary reference to the Union League's patriotic support of the Union army at the outbreak of the war and during its continuance, Mr. Taft said:

"It is peculiarly fitting that this club, each year, should celebrate the birthday of that man who then was coming into prominence and upon him hung, it would seem, the whole destiny of this nation.

"It is not for me in the presence of gentlemen who knew him, who served with him, who ran the risk of life and death with him, to descend upon his life, his peculiar virtues, or at length attempt to picture his character to this company. But there are certain things with respect to General Grant that today come back with reference to our passing life. They said that General Grant had not the military genius that other generals displayed in the war. To my mind his mind and brain represented the very genius of the war to suppress the rebellion, because it was his mind that grasped the thought that until we had fought it out with our brave opponents and met them in the field and fought them as soldiers, until we convinced them by our strength that the battle was hopeless, we could not expect to have a united country. And therefore from the time he began in Belmont until he accepted the surrender of Lee at Appomattox, he fought not cities, not points of strategy, but he fought the enemy and he fought until he wore out the opposition, because only by wearing them out he hoped to bring about the condition in which there should be complete peace."

President Taft returned to Washington this morning.

J. W. BABCOCK DEAD

Former Representative Succumbs In Washington.

Washington, April 28.—Joseph W. Babcock, former representative in congress from Wisconsin, and chairman of the Republican congressional committee for several congressional terms, died at his residence here. Mr. Babcock had been seriously ill for several weeks with cirrhosis of the liver. Mrs. Babcock and his son, Charles, of Necedah, Wis., were with him.

Girl Student Oddly Injured.

Wellesley, Mass., April 28.—By the breaking of a rope fire escape Miss Jeannette Tandy, of Vevay, Ind., a sophomore at Wellesley college, fell two stories, striking on her back and head and sustaining serious injuries. The accident happened while Miss Tandy was fulfilling the college requirement that each student at intervals make a descent of the fire escape.

Swallows Teeth; Lodge In Throat.

Washington, Pa., April 28.—As a result of swallowing his false teeth, Constable John W. Vankirk is dying. The plate lodged in his throat. Vankirk had been suffering from a severe cold, and it was during a violent fit of coughing that the teeth were swallowed. An unsuccessful effort was made by the attending physician to push them into the stomach.

C. F. MONTGOMERY.

One of Bellefonte's Leading Business Men Has Passed Away.

It is with a feeling of extreme regret that we chronicle the death of Frank Montgomery, one of the leading business men of our town and a man universally admired and respected by our citizens. This sad event occurred at the Crozer Hospital in Chester Wednesday morning at 7:48 o'clock. Mr. Montgomery's long business career and the worries and cares was the principal cause of a mental and physical breakdown and as a result on the 9th of February last he went to Philadelphia and later entered Burn Brae Sanitarium at Clifton Heights near Media for treatment. It was hoped by his family and friends that he would soon return to Bellefonte restored to health and strength but such was not to be the case. Saturday morning he eluded the sanitarium authorities and going to Chester in some manner procured a revolver and shot himself, inflicting a serious wound in the head and as a result he passed away at the above stated time.

Charles Franklin Montgomery was born in Bellefonte December 20th 1847 making his age at time of death, 61 years 4 months and 8 days. He came from one of the pioneer families of the town and was the son of John and Catherine Montgomery, now deceased. His early education was secured in the public schools and Bellefonte Academy. On leaving school he entered his father's store as clerk. About 1870 he was engaged in the wholesale gents furnishing goods business in Philadelphia being the junior member of the firm of Van Duzen, Carlisle & Co. In 1874 this business having been closed out he came to Bellefonte and bought out his brothers, W. W., and Henry H., in the gents furnishing business. In 1878 he bought the tailoring establishment of his father, the latter retiring. About this time the firm became Montgomery & Co., his brother Moses and sister, Mrs. Feltz, being associated with him.

About two years before Moss Montgomery's death this firm was dissolved, the business being continued by C. F. Montgomery. He was a life long member of St John's Episcopal church and at time of his leaving Bellefonte was Superintendent of the Sunday school. When a young man he was junior Warden of the parish. For twenty years he served as Vestryman, resigning a few years ago on account of his health. He also served for many years as Treasurer of the church.

On April 17th 1884 he was married to Mrs. M. L. Calise, whose maiden name was Myra S. Hassall, of Philadelphia, who survives him with one son, William Hassall Montgomery. He also leaves one brother, Henry H. Montgomery, of this place, the last of a family of ten.

Old and young will mourn the death of Frank Montgomery, a perfectly lovable man, with a sunny disposition and a kind word of greeting for everyone. He will be sadly missed not only in his family and business life, but also in the church and the everyday walks of life. He was a kind and noble husband; a devoted and gentle father and a polished gentleman. The entire community mourns with the family in the loss of Frank Montgomery.

A Great Success.

The twelfth anniversary performance of the Penn State Theatians was a great success at State College last Friday night. All who attended said it was the best thing they had ever seen in the Auditorium. It is by far the best performance that the Theatians have ever put on. In the last act when the members of the kings court came out costumed for their amateur production of "Uncle Thomas' Cottage, or Who Stopped on Harriett Beacher's Toe," the applause was so hearty that the men could not go on with the lines for some time. The dancing was very well appreciated throughout the whole play, and the gorgeous costumes of the chorus girls made a decided hit.

Dives to His Death.

John Belock, a Polander, dived to his death in the swollen water of the West Branch at Milton Friday night shortly after nine o'clock. During the evening he was in a saloon near the river bridge. He left his hat in the bar room and going out on the bridge, took off his coat, shirt and collar and dived from the railing. The theft of $156 of his hard earned money recently had caused him to become melancholy. The body was not recovered, having been carried down stream in the swift current.

WILL SIGN COAL PACT TOMORROW

Peace in Anthracite Region Sure Until 1912.

CONVENTION ENDS TODAY

Miners Will Ratify the Agreement and Their Representatives and Operators Will Meet in Philadelphia Tomorrow to Append Their Signatures.

Scranton, Pa., April 28.—The tri-district convention of the anthracite mine workers which will ratify the proposed agreement that is expected to be signed by the representatives of the men and the mine operators in Philadelphia tomorrow, met in the Lackawanna county courthouse this morning. The report of the committee of seven was laid before the delegates.

There has not been a hitch in the plans of the leaders of the union thus far and none is anticipated by them. They fully expected the agreement to be signed by both sides tomorrow, thus ensuring industrial peace in the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania for another period of three years. So far as can be learned the operators fully understand the terms of the proposed agreement and no further opposition is looked for from them.

The only point that has not been definitely cleared up is National President Lewis' attitude with regard to signing an agreement that does not officially recognize the union. Whether he will sign the report as plain T. L. Lewis or whether he will not sign it at all, but let the district presidents alone affix their signatures to it, he will not say. At the beginning of the present negotiations he announced that he would never sign an agreement unless he could do so as president of the miners' organization.

The convention went into secret session to discuss a matter which the delegates did not care to have considered publicly. The subject taken up in the secret session was the garnishment bill passed by the Pennsylvania legislature and now in the hands of the governor.

National President Lewis, District Presidents Fahy and Roscavage and several members of the legislature from this section of the state, who had been called into the secret session, made speeches strongly opposing the measure. A committee was appointed consisting of the three district presidents and secretaries to draw up a resolution asking the governor to veto the bill. It will be adopted by the convention and sent to the chief executive of the state.

The convention, unless there is some hitch in the program, will adjourn finally today. The committee of miners will meet the committee of the operators at the Reading Terminal building at Philadelphia at 2 p. m. tomorrow, when the peace pact is expected to be signed.

EMBRACES GIRL; RIB SNAPS

Virginia Lover Thought He Had Broken Watch Crystal.

Pungateague, Va., April 27.—Lola Wescott, eighteen years old, had a rib broken, it is said, while bidding her sweetheart, Elwood Scott, twenty years old, "good night."

Upon taking his departure it is reported that the youthful Romeo clasped the girl in the goodby embrace, when one of her ribs snapped. The sound was somewhat like the breaking of the crystal of a watch, and Scott at first thought his own timepiece had suffered. The girl at once, however, realized that the accident was more serious and a doctor was summoned.

Adial E. Stevenson Suffers Relapse.

Chicago, April 28.—Friends of former Vice President Adial E. Stevenson fear for his recovery from shocks due to the sudden death of his brother and only sister. Mrs. E. S. Macaughrey, his sister, died April 16. His brother William W. Stevenson, died two days later. The bereavements affected him seriously, and he is reported to have suffered a relapse at the Presbyterian hospital here, where he has been for some time.

Increased Custom Receipts.

New York, April 28.—The customs receipts at this port for the expired portion of the fiscal year of 1908-09 show a marked increase over the duties collected during the corresponding period of the fiscal year of 1907-08. During the 249 working days elapsed so far the duties collected aggregate $164,187,532, as against $161,647,381 collected during the same 249 days of 1907-08.

THE ACADEMY'S VICTORY.

Met With Great Success on their Eastern Trip.

The Academy's baseball nine took a trip to Princeton and Philadelphia during the Easter vacation which closed on Monday at noon. At Princeton they played the famous Princeton preparatory school nine and defeated them by the close score of 3 to 2. Not a run was scored after the third inning. The opposing pitchers were in rare form. But three hits were secured by either nine. White, two years ago a pitcher for Exeter, and last year a Mercersburg pitcher, was in the box for Princeton. He is said to be a better twirler than his brother who pitches for the Princeton Varsity. The North American said that the Academy boys put up one of the finest exhibitions of ball playing ever seen on the Princeton "Prep" grounds.

At Philadelphia the Academy defeated the leading preparatory school in the inter-academic league—Penn Charter—by the score of 5-1. Bolton, the Academy southpaw was a complete puzzle to Penn Charter, while the Academy batted hard. Games were scheduled with Villa Nova "Prep" and Penn Freshman, but rain interfered. Penn Charter had already defeated the Penn Freshmen and naturally the Academy boys felt they had a good chance to win. The Academy management will have no trouble in the future in arranging games with the leading schools of the east. Their reputation is now established along athletic lines even as it has been established long ago along lines of scholarship. The boys on it will deserve the congratulations of everybody and certainly should have the united financial support of the community in their home games.

New Electrical Plant.

One of the most beautiful and attractive places in this vicinity is the Country Club House located at Hecla Park. Much money has been spent in making the surroundings pleasing and attractive. On Monday morning work was commenced that will increase the conveniences down there very materially. It is the putting in of an up-to-date electric light plant to illuminate the house and the grounds. In addition to this a string of lights will be placed between this house and the station, at Hecla Park, so there will be no traveling over the thoroughfare in the dark as has often been the case. The plant will be erected in the gap, on the site of the old Hecla furnace. A turbine water wheel will be put in to run the dynamo which will be of the very latest type. The water will be taken from the mountain stream which supplies the dams at Hecla Park. From the dam in the park the water will pass through the race to where the old overshot wheel was located which turned the machinery at the old Hecla furnace, once the chief industry of that end of the county. They have a very strong head and there will be no difficulty to carry out the project which is a good one. There is a probability that at some future time the current be used during the day for ironing, churning, etc. and with it may come the electric bath.

There will be considerable work with this improvement as the wires on the first and second floor will be concealed, making it necessary to tear up many of the floors. There will also be electric call bells placed in the various rooms, making the improvements complete in every detail, and furnishing to the members one of the finest club houses to be found anywhere in the state. Most of the members are from Bellefonte and Tyrone, and thus our home people are to be congratulated on the enterprise they have shown from time to time to make this as near an ideal place as can possibly be done.—Centre Democrat.

An Immense Tree

One of the largest and finest trees ever grown in Central Pennsylvania was cut down on the farm of Fleck Bros., in Sinking Valley, a few days ago and sold to Contractor J. B. Graham, of Altoona, who has been buying logs in Sinking Valley the past few days for C. D. Comly, of Stobenville, O., who is exporting them to Hamburg, Germany, where they are to be used in the manufacture of coffins.

Contractor Graham has an order for many thousand feet of logs, to be shipped to Hamburg, and secured one of the biggest trees ever cut in Sinking Valley on the Fleck farm. It was a walnut tree, thirteen feet in circumference at the base and measuring eighty-five feet from the ground to the first limb. The tree, when sawed, made five logs the size needed for export.

SULTAN'S FATE IS IN DOUBT

Offers to Place Government in Hands of Ministers.

YOUNG TURKS MAY DEPOSE HIM

Tewfik Pasha Arranged Compromise With Constitutionalists, Who Are Now in Session Discussing the Deposition of the Sultan—Warships Go Over to Constitutional Party.

Constantinople, April 23.—The Young Turks have won another victory over Sultan Abdul Hamid, but whether the sultan will remain as sovereign of the empire is yet to be decided, although he has offered to place the affairs of the government entirely in the hands of the ministers responsible to parliament.

Tewfik Pasha, the grand vizier, arranged a compromise with certain influential Constitutionalists, and this was approved by the sultan personally.

TEWFIK PASHA.

but doubts exist whether this agreement will be accepted by the majority of the Committee of Union and Progress or by enough of the military group to carry it into effect.

In addition to promising to withdraw himself from administrative activities, the sultan agrees to a change in the personnel of the troops guarding the palace, and the replacing of the Constantinople garrison by troops from the corps which has practically been investing the city for four days.

The chamber of deputies and some of the senators met at San Stefano and are now discussing the question of the deposition of the sultan. The warships have gone to that place, and officers and men have offered their services to the Constitutional party. Mahmoud Scheffet Pasha, commander of the Third Army corps, has arrived at that place, and the concentration of the investing army is now complete. Doubtless the next twenty-four hours will decide the fate of the sultan, who remains passively at his palace, awaiting the issue.

MASSACRES GROW

Slaughter of 10,000 Christians in Syria Confirmed.

Beirut, Syria, April 23.—Five American missionaries are in danger at Hadjim in the vilayet of Adana, Asiatic Turkey. One of them, Miss Lamb, has sent a message asking immediate help. The women are entirely alone and defenceless.

The villages surrounding Hadjim are in flames, and Hadjim itself is invested by nomad tribesmen.

The situation in the country north, east and west of Alexandretta is most serious. There has been massacre and pillage at Antioch and rioting at Birejik.

The town of Kirikan has been sacked and burned. At Ayas, 418 murderers have been released from prison. They at once joined the mob and began committing depredations.

At Tarsus 100 persons have been killed, 800 houses have been burned, and there are 5000 persons without homes. Several native pastors from Aintab were killed while on their way to attend the district missionary meeting at Adana.

Turkish officials at Mersina have done everything possible to check the trouble.

10,000 Armenians Slaughtered.

Constantinople, April 23.—Despatches received here from Asiatic Turkey confirm previous reports that 10,000 Armenians have been massacred at Adana and in the vicinity of that city. One embassy places the estimate of killed as high as 15,000.

The situation in Asiatic Turkey is distinctly threatening. The wave of fanaticism which originated at Adana is spreading generally through the eastern provinces.

British, French and German war vessels have arrived at Mersina.

Aleppo reports the situation of all Americans there to be dangerous. No mention is made of any one being killed or injured.

Entire Town Wiped Out.

Aleppo, Asiatic Turkey, April 23.—The entire population of Kirikan, located between here and Alexandretta, even unto the last babe, has been massacred.

The French mission at Ekbaz is besieged by fanatical Moslems. The Armenian village at Deurtyul is surrounded, and, according to a messenger, who crawled through the Arab lines at night and made his way here for help, the situation there is hopeless. The buildings on the edge of the town already were in flames when he escaped.

SAYS HAINS IS NOT INSANE

Allenist Declares Slayer of Annis Is Not a Lunatic.

Flushing, N. Y., April 23.—A commotion was caused in the camp of the defense at the trial of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., for the murder of William B. Annis, by Dr. L. S. Manson, an alienist retained by the defense, who declared that in his opinion Captain Hains was not insane at the present time, and that the defense did not intend to raise such an issue, but would rest with the proof that the defendant was insane at the time of the shooting.

John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for the defense, admitted that two of their alienists were of the opinion that the prisoner was now sane, but he said he did not agree with them. Mr. McIntyre further stated that he hoped a commission in lunacy would be avoided and that the question of his client's sanity would be left for the jury to pass upon after all the evidence had been placed before them.

NEW AGREEMENT IN COAL SITUATION

Miners and Operators Hold Satisfactory Conference.

Philadelphia, April 23.—As the result of the conference between President Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, the three anthracite district presidents and the five members of the operators' policy committee, a new form of agreement was presented which will, in all probability, be formally signed at a meeting of miners and operators in this city next week.

Following the conference, President Lewis called a meeting of the executive boards of the three anthracite districts, to be held at Scranton next Monday morning, when the new agreement will be presented. It will then be considered by the tri-district convention at Scranton the following day.

The terms of the agreement were not made public. Although the new agreement is not satisfactory to the miners' officials, they realize that it is the best proposition that can be secured. President Lewis said that it was far more satisfactory than the first agreement, but he would not state what concessions had been made by the operators.

MAN DIES OF BROKEN HEART

Death of Three Children Within Ten Days Unbalanced Mind.

Wilmington, Del., April 23.—Grief over the loss of his three children from scarlet fever within a period of ten days a few weeks ago, is believed to have caused the death of Peter J. Feeney, of 1141 Peach street.

When his three children died Mr. Feeney began to act queerly and became mentally unbalanced to such an extent that it was felt safer to have him sent to the insane asylum at Farnhurst. Soon he improved and was returned to his home. Three days ago he began declining and finally died of a broken heart.

BURGULARS AT VATICAN

Three With Complete Outfit of Tools Found in Gardens.

Rome, April 23.—Wednesday night papal gendarmes surprised and arrested, hidden in the gardens of the Vatican, three men who were found to be equipped with a complete outfit of burglars' tools. They have been handed over to the Italian police.

New Ambassador to Austria.

Washington, April 23.—That Richard C. Kerens, of St. Louis, will be the new ambassador to Austria, vice Francis, of New York, was admitted. Mr. Kerens is here for a meeting of the Catholic university managers, and gives the impression he will accept the office.

Drew Another's Pension Five Years.

Philadelphia, April 23.—Accused of obtaining a pension due to a veteran by perjury and forgery, Amos F. Fletcher, sixty-five years old, was held under $1000 bail for trial by United States Commissioner Craig in the federal building.

Another New York Department Store.

Albany, N. Y., April 23.—Organized to conduct a general department store or stores, Gimbel Brothers, New York, with principal office in New York, and a capital of $7,500,000, was incorporated.

Pope Honors American Woman.

Rome, April 23.—The pope has conferred the title of marchioness on Mrs. Frederick Courtland Penfield, of New York, in recognition of her widespread charities.

The Weather.

Forecast for this section: Fair and somewhat cooler today; tomorrow, fair; light winds, mostly west.

MR. ROOSEVELT AT MOMBASA

The Admiral Entered the Harbor Flying American Flag.

RECEIVED CORDIAL GREETING

Officials Heartily Welcomed Mr. Roosevelt and Party and British Sailors Cheered—Military Guard Pleased Him—Starts For Hunting Grounds This Afternoon.

Mombasa, British East Africa, April 22.—Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt arrived here on board the steamer Admiral. Mr. Roosevelt was in the best of health, as were all the members of his party. The Admiral entered Kilindi harbor, flying the American flag at her fore and main masts. She dipped the German ensign while passing the British cruiser Pandora, whose rails and masts were manned by cheering sailors. The Pandora saluted the ex-president, who was on the bridge watching with interest the coming into port.

The special train which will carry Mr. Roosevelt and his party to Sir Alfred Pease's ranch on the Athi river will leave here at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The acting governor of the protectorate, Frederick J. Jackson, entertained the ex-president at dinner and later they proceeded to one of the clubs. This morning the Roosevelt party was taken in carriages about the town.

The people of Mombasa were in a great state of expectancy throughout the day, and the first word of the sighting of the ship brought them in crowds to vantage points, where they might catch a glimpse of the distinguished visitor. The Admiral, however, came slowly up to the harbor, and it was dark when the ex-president, accompanied by his son Kermit and the captain, made a landing. The governor's aide boarded the Admiral and extended a welcome to Mr. Roosevelt, who received another cordial greeting on shore from the provincial commissioner, who conducted him to the government house. R. F. Cunningham, the hunter and field naturalist, who is to have charge of the expedition, also was on hand at the pier.

The former president seemed highly pleased when he observed the military guard drawn up. He replied to the guards' salute by doffing his hat and smiling broadly. The crowds on shore pressed eagerly forward to see the noted American. They were composed of Europeans, Indians and natives and presented a picturesque appearance. While genuinely hearty in their welcome to the former president of the United States, the people were not in any way demonstrative.

BROKE MONTE CARLO BANK

London, April 22.—A telegram from Monte Carlo says that Huntley Walker, an Englishman, broke the bank, winning $60,000 in two hours.

Demand $300 to Return Kidnapped Boy

Cincinnati, April 22.—Leo Mulhern, twelve years old, is missing, following the receipt by his mother of two letters threatening to kidnap the boy. The police, to whom the disappearance was reported, fear that they have another Willie Whitt case to solve. A letter received by Mrs. Mulhern on Monday stated that the boy would be kidnapped if she did not leave $300 within thirty days at a moving picture place.

Child Fatally Scalded.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 22.—John B. Whitt, the son of John H. Hinkle, a bricklayer, scalded himself fatally with hot coffee. The child upset a cup of hot coffee over himself while playing beside a table, being scalded all over its head and body to the waist.

Y. W. C. A.'S CONVENTION

Hundreds of Young Women Delegates at Gathering in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—Several hundred young women from all parts of the United States, delegates to the second biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian Associations of the United States, assembled today in the Central Presbyterian church of this city for the opening of the convention. The convention will last until next Tuesday morning.

The program of the convention provides for a general address on the association movement by Miss Mary E. Wooley, president of Mount Holyoke college; Professor Rauschenbusch, of the Baptist Theological seminary, at Rochester, N. Y., will speak on the social teachings of Jesus, and Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Zwerner, of the student volunteer movement, will deliver an address on missions. The speaker on the church will be Rev. Dr. Francis J. McConnell, president of De Pauw university, Indiana. Rev. John Douglas Adam, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at East Orange, N. J., will deliver three addresses.

FEMALE SOLDIER INJURED

Mrs. Sarah Thompson Run Down by Street Car in Washington.

Washington, April 22.—Mrs. Sarah B. Thompson, aged seventy-one years, who served as a spy during the Civil War and is said to be the only woman carried on the pension rolls as a soldier, was so severely injured here by being knocked down by a street car near the capitol that she may die. She rendered conspicuous service to the Union cause during the Civil War by the discovery of the whereabouts of the noted Confederate General John T. Morgan. Mrs. Thompson was employed in the postoffice department.

WILL DYNAMITE HUGE ICE GORGE

Niagara's Frozen Menace Will Be Blown Up.

Lewiston, N. Y., April 22.—Mute, menacing, with true glacial deliberation, the great ice jam still seals the waters of the lower Niagara river. In twenty-four hours the ponderous mass has not moved forward a hair's breadth, its only motion being a slight rise and fall over the middle of the river as the pent-up forces of Niagara's flood tears its way through new openings in the huge mound of ice.

Residents and property owners all along the banks from Queenston to Lake Ontario are panic stricken, fearing not so much a further rise in the river as the sudden breaking up of the jam. Two carloads of dynamite have been rushed to Youngstown, where the work of blowing up the gorge will begin.

CONVENTION OF WISE MEN

America's Oldest and Most Famous Learned Society Holds Meeting.

Philadelphia, April 22.—America's oldest and most famous learned association, the American Philosophical society, founded by Benjamin Franklin in this city in 1743, for the purpose of promoting useful knowledge, began today its regular annual meeting in the hall of the society on Independence square. The meeting, which will last three days, is attended by men eminent in scholarship and scientific ability in all parts of the United States.

The papers to be read before the society cover the widest possible range of scientific research, including, among other matters, subjects so widely diverse as geology, Biblical investigation, physics and anthropology.

The president of the society is Dr. William W. Keen, the famous surgeon of this city. Candidates for membership are balloted for at the annual meeting, and the proceedings close with the annual dinner of the society.

GYMNASTIC CHAMPIONSHIPS

Some of the Country's Best Men in Amateur Contests in New York.

New York, April 22.—Colleges, universities, Young Men's Christian associations, turnvires and other organizations of young men of agility and muscle will be well represented tonight at the National Amateur Athletic union gymnastic championships, to be held in the gymnasium of the Young Men's Hebrew association.

Among the events which will attract the greatest amount of attention will be the rope climbing contest and the all around contest.

Engineer's Wife Died on Train.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 22.—Engineer John S. Heimbach, of Allentown, was at the throttle of train No. 97, of the Philadelphia & Reading railway, when he was signalled to stop and notified that his wife had just died in one of the coaches of the train of valvular disease of the heart. She was in good health when the train left Allentown.

Taft Buys Another Horse.

Hot Springs, Va., April 22.—President Taft has purchased another Virginia saddle horse from Tate Sterrett. This is the third he has acquired recently for his personal use. It is a very handsome heavyweight bay, sixteen hands high, weighing 1300 pounds and has been named Fannifera.

SURRENDERED BY HIS SON

Trenton Lawyer Charged With Embezzling $100,000.

WAS MISSING A WEEK

John Sykes, After Being Turned Over to the Police by His Son and His Brother-in-Law, Plead Guilty to Embezzlement and Forgery.

Trenton, N. J., April 23.—Surrendered by his own son and his brother-in-law, Lawyer John Sykes, for whom the police have been searching for more than a week on charges of embezzling upward of $100,000 in trust funds, was captured and placed in the county jail. He later pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement and forgery.

Among the specific charges made against him was the forging of the names of both his sister and brother to notes. He was placed under arrest as he stepped from a train which he had boarded at Philadelphia, where he had been hiding for more than a week.

Sykes wrote to his son, Alvin, who is a law student at the University of Pennsylvania, a few days ago, stating that he would return to Trenton in order to see him. After a conference with his mother and other relatives, the young man decided to turn his father over to the authorities. Consequently two detectives and Prosecutor Crossley were waiting at the station with young Sykes when the attorney arrived. The prisoner said he had come to Trenton to discuss with his son the advisability of surrendering himself. Although convinced by his friends that he only did his duty, young Sykes is heartbroken over the giving up of his father.

The lawyer told the authorities that his trouble began years ago, when it was necessary to defend himself against false charges of embezzling money from a client. He got in debt then, and later financial reverses got him into a position which he could not remedy. He was penniless when searched in the jail.

Sykes declared that he would not fight the charges against him, and that he was ready to take whatever punishment is meted out to him for his misdeeds.

TWO GUILTY OF MURDER

Third Man Placed on Trial For the Same Crime.

Lancaster, Pa., April 23.—Wednesday a jury convicted Walter W. Aston of murder in the first degree; last night another jury brought in a verdict of first degree murder against Walter's cousin, Benjamin Aston; today Paul Fornwalt was placed on trial for the same crime. Jacob L. Hiney, a hotelkeeper, who is charged with complicity with the others, will probably not be tried until the next term of court.

On the night of Jan. 31 last the two Asters and Fornwalt went to the home of aged Alfred Hallman, in Pequea township, who was believed to have a large amount of cash in his house, for the purpose of robbing him. Walter Aston opened the door and as soon as he was inside began shooting. Hallman was killed instantly.

GREAT LAWYERS' MEETING

Society Composed of Legal Lights Has Convention in Washington.

Washington, April 23.—The American Society of International Law, composed of lawyers and others interested in the questions that arise between nations, holds its third annual meeting in this city today and tomorrow.

The president of the society is Elihu Root, senator from New York. Oscar S. Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor, is chairman of the executive committee, and Charles Henry Butler, reporter of the United States supreme court, is the corresponding secretary. Among the vice presidents of the society are President Taft, Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Day, Andrew Carnegie, Joseph H. Choate and Justice Brewer.

Jersey Masons Elect Officers.

Trenton, N. J., April 23.—The New Jersey Grand Lodge of Masons, in session here, elected these officers: Grand master, J. Clarence Conover, Orange; deputy grand master, Alton H. Sherman, Freehold; senior warden, Leslie A. Burritt, Bayonne; junior warden, Richard C. Woodward, Bordentown; secretary, Benjamin Wakefield, Trenton; treasurer, William F. Burke, Trenton.

DRANK HIMSELF TO DEATH

Engineer Awaiting Work on Florida Railroad Dies.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 22.—H. C. Leighton, an engineer, drank himself to death, according to doctors, while waiting a reply to his application for appointment to the corps of experts building the railroad over the Florida Keys. The unfortunate man had pawned everything but the rags he wore to buy drink.

The Weather.

Forecast for this section: Rain today; brisk to high south to west winds; tomorrow, partly cloudy.

ANOTHER INSPECTION

Of Local National Guardsmen to be Made.

Preparations are being made by the Division of Militia Affairs for an additional inspection of the National Guard which has been decided upon by Assistant Secretary Oliver on recommendation of the National Militia Board. A circular letter has been forwarded to each state informing them of the proposed additional inspection, in which request is made that in drawing up the program for the coming summer encampment, opportunity be given to make the inspection contemplated by the officer detailed by the War Department for that purpose.

The department finds it impossible to give any definite information as to the details of the inspection or as to the time required to make them. This will depend in each case on the size of the organization and on the degree of training of the troops. In general terms, the inspection will be such as to enable the inspecting officer to form a definite opinion as to the features of the military organization of the troops, the nature of the armament and the degree of instruction.

"The scope of the inspection is determined by the act of congress, which includes such inquiries by the inspectors as may be necessary to establish an adequate knowledge of the nature of the organization, character of the armament and the degree of discipline, or instruction of the bodies inspected," says Colonel Weaver. "It is difficult to specify the limits and the scope of such an inspection in more than general terms, and it is also difficult if not impossible, to designate the time that will be required in any particular case. The scope and time in all cases will be dependent on the size of the organizations to be inspected and on the state of their instruction. Each inspector will have to determine what is necessary both as to scope and time, after he has been brought in contact with the troops."

"Two conditions may arise in carrying out his scheme. First, the officer designated to make the inspection may be the officer detailed by the department to be present during the encampment for instruction purposes. In such case, the officer would be able, it is assumed, to acquire the necessary information, in regard to organization, armament and discipline in connection with his duties as instructor without interfering in any way with the scheme of instruction. Second, the officer may be appointed solely for the purpose of making the inspection and not the one detailed as instructor. In this case, it will be necessary for the officer detailed as instructor to arrange by special correspondence with the military authorities of the state, for such opportunities for making the inspection as may be thought desirable by the officer and may be conveniently granted by the state authorities."

This is the most dangerous time of the year to catch cold, and it is the hardest time to cure it. If you should take a cold, a few doses of kidney's Laxative Cough Syrup will act very promptly. Its laxative principle cures the cold by driving it from the system by a gentle but natural action of the bowels. Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes so good nearly like maple sugar. It is sold by all dealers.

More Pay for Rural Carriers.

Rural letter carriers will come in for a little extra compensation if a bill introduced in Congress becomes a law. It provides that per annum additional be allowed for the purchase and maintenance of necessary horses, wagon and equipment. In the average country districts this small allowance will be none too much, for the wear and tear upon a carrier's outfit as he travels over the rough roads and in all kinds of weather—like the present, for instance—is very great, and at the present meagre salary he is lucky if he comes out at the end of the year with his head above the water, as it were. The rural delivery of mail has come to be very popular with the country people, and it has come to stay. We would hope hence the carriers should have an adequate compensation, at least a living one.

You should not delay under any circumstances in cases of Kidney and Bladder trouble. You should take something promptly that you know is reliable, something like Dr. Williams' Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are unequalled for weak back ache, inflammation of the bladder, rheumatic pains, etc. When you ask for Dr. Williams' Kidney and Bladder Pills, be sure you get them. They are antiseptic. Accept no substitutes; insist upon getting the right kind. Sold by All Dealers.

The Rewards of Genius

Artists Who Have Waited Long For Substantial Recognition—John La Farge and George Gray Barnard and Their Trials.

The Medals of Honor Tendered the Deans of American Painters and Sculptors—Edwin A. Abbey and His Donation.

PERHAPS some day a little this side of the millennium the public will learn to appreciate a great man before he is dead. The wisdom of giving a man his due while he is alive and able to reap the benefit of the good things said about him was illustrated recently in the case of that truly great American artist, John La Farge. The Architectural League of New York, which in effect is an organization of national scope, has just concluded its twenty-fourth annual exhibition in the Fine Arts building in Fifty-seven street, New York. The league embraces in its membership painters, sculptors, architects and workers in allied arts, the three sister arts of painting, sculpture and architecture being the mainstay of the organization. Mr. La Farge as dean of the mural painters of America and John Q. A. Ward as dean of the sculptors were the two artists receiving the chief honors of the exhibition. Mr. La Farge was the recipient of a gold medal of honor for mural painting and Mr. Ward of a similar medal for his achievements in sculpture. The gold medal for architecture was awarded to the firm of Trowbridge & Livingston for its design for the residence of Henry Phillips. It was the first time in the history of the organization that such gold medals were struck, and Mr. La Farge and Mr. Ward are the first to be thus honored as painter and sculptor.

In the hanging of the works contributed to the exhibition special prominence was given to those of these two artists, and the place of honor in the principal gallery was occupied by Mr. La Farge's painting for the Church of the Paulist Fathers in New York, entitled "Angel of the Sun." Near it were the studies for several stained glass windows for the same church, one of which is illustrated herewith. Other exhibits numbering about forty, repre-

published several weeks ago which gave such an impression he wrote in a way which showed him to be humorist as well as artist. Said the great mural painter:

This matter was a source of amusement to me and also of a certain pleasure from getting inquiries and letters, etc., from people who kindly took an interest in my health or anything affecting me. Moreover, it brought me a visit from my doctor, whom I had not seen for several weeks. I have not seen him yet, but he left his card, so I do not feel neglected. As I am led into talking about myself, I wish to note a matter which is interesting to me and which is also interesting in a general manner, and this is that I have been off and on an ill man since the year 1865 and 1867. I was paralyzed by what later was supposed to be lead poisoning, which affects some of us painters very much. The lame foot of the late Lord Byron was part of his equipment for becoming a great English poet. The result has been the same for me from my lameness, which has not always been apparent, but which is always there. Some thirty odd years ago when I undertook the beginning of decorative work in churches by painting Trinity church, my kindly assistants had always to help me up the thirty foot ladder on to the great scaffolding. This did not prevent my painting on the wall, slung on a narrow board sixty feet above the floor of the church, with one arm passed around a rope and holding my palette, while the other was passed around the other rope, and I painted on my last figure, eighteen feet high, which had to be finished the next morning at 7 o'clock. I painted five hours that night in that way and poured for twenty-one hours out of the twenty-four. For a sick man you can see that the strain was well met.

Another artist who has suffered from ill appreciation of genius is George Gray Barnard, whose enthusiastic admirers claim for him talents equal to those of Michelangelo. Mr. Barnard recently had one of his best sculptural achievements, "The Hower," on exhibition in Boston, and an effort was made to raise enough money to buy it for the city, and to say, without success. The people of the Hub praised the sculptor and his genius, but when they were asked to contribute hard earned dollars so that the work might stay in their city the result even in the Athens of America was disappointing. Another of Mr. Barnard's famous works, the god Pan, which was exhibited in the Paris salon and at the Pan-American exposition, for a long time went begging and was lacking a permanent resting place. Columbia university has it now and has awarded it a place of honor on its campus.

After all sorts of tribulations Mr. Barnard is going to be able to carry out at least a part of his plan for the sculptural decoration of the new Pennsylvania capitol. The graft that flourished in connection with the erection of this building came near wrecking this scheme, but it transpired that some of the sculptor's friends came to the rescue and raised sufficient money to permit him to go on with his work, which when executed will help to make the Pennsylvania capitol notable for its triumphs of art long after the graft scandal has passed out of memory.

Mr. Edwin A. Abbey has also shown a most commendable spirit in carrying out his part of the great task of ornamenting the capitol of the Keystone State. There were obstacles of various kinds to the execution of a part of the decorative scheme devised by this great American mural painter. Mr. Abbey resolved to do the work as planned whether he got paid or not. He is therefore going to donate to the capitol ten large mural paintings to be placed in the hall of the house of representatives which will serve to complete his allegorical scheme of decoration. They pay for EDWIN A. ABBEY. paintings for this building by the square foot, and Mr. Abbey was to be paid a trifle or so above the union scale and get $50 per foot. According to the contract price on the other work, the value of his donation will therefore reach $30,000. That would not be much for Rockefeller or Carnegie, but for an artist to give away paintings of such a value is hardly an everyday occurrence.

EDWARD HALE BRUSH.

Mr. La Farge is evidently somewhat sensitive at being referred to as "an aged artist" or as broken down in health. In correcting some statements

AMERICAN CHILDREN.

What Lady Constance Richardson Has to Say About Them.

Lady Constance Stewart Richardson, the beautiful Englishwoman who is in this country creating no little stir and comment by giving Greek dances to New York's socially elect for her favorite charities, holds decided views about the way American children are treated.

In the first place, she thinks there is no possible excuse for people who have money bringing up children in cities. She maintains that the country is the place for children, not the city, where they are continually under the strain of being told not to do things.

It is bad for them mentally as well as physically, she thinks, and results in a generation of nervous, high strung children, who will never do anything that they are told to and who scream and shriek when they are a little hurt.

It is a little comforting to find some one who sets down at least a part of the inexplicable vagaries of the American child to nervousness caused by the complexities of city life and not, as is usually the case, to bad bringing up or downright viciousness. There can be little doubt that there is some truth in the theory. The modern apartment or crowded city lot, with its close proximity to automobiles and street cars and other dangers for children, results in a constant stream on prohibitions for the child. The atmosphere is by far too tense.

Another wrong that, in the opinion of Lady Constance, is meted out to the city child is the way in which he is dragged around by the arm by a nurse. This, too, is bad for a child mentally as well as physically, as you can readily see if you stop to imagine the impression it would make on your own nervous system should some giant get you by one hand and drag you along faster than you could go, sometimes almost lifting you from the ground so that much of your weight came on that one arm.

Fortunately there are no glants in the shape of nurses who tag us around everlastingly and tell us a half a dozen times that we can't do something and then finally let us do it. If there were we would all be looking up the price of rooms at a sanitarium.

THEY WRITE POETRY.

Chicago Suffragists Have Burst Into Song.

Poetic fervor still has a firm hold on the Chicago suffragists. A couple of weeks ago they burst into rhyming song on 5,000 billboards throughout the city, and now they offer a prize of $100 for the best poetic composition showing their determination to take an active part in municipal affairs. It is on a fight for the privilege of voting on all municipal problems that the Chicago suffragettes are concentrating at present. Two days after the announcement of the prize contest several hundred contributions were received by the committee in charge. All of these exhibits manifest a belligerent spirit, and man invariably gets the worst of it. One stanza out of twenty, to go with the tune of "John Brown's Body," runs as follows:

All the women of the century are coming up to town. They have taken up the mitten that the men have thrown down. We must show them that the stronger mind will finally prevail. We are marching on to victory; our feet are on the trail.

Another woman begins with the fervid declaration, "Our prayers are just as righteous as the call of '61.'" Another confidently asserts, "The noble power of womanhood cannot be long restrained." Still another proclaims, "We are all free and equal in God's most holy sight; we are asking for the ballot because it is our right." Metrical gymnastics such as these are beginning to pour in from distant parts of the country and Canada. Several of the most aggressive specimens have come from New York women.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

The hair should be treated to a shower bath, the same as a flower. Nothing is so good for milady's tresses as a walk during a light rainfall or a hair spray with pure rainwater, followed by a visit to the sunlight.

No application is better for lusterless hair than salt. Rub well into the roots of the hair at night, then tie up in a large handkerchief or wear a nightcap. Brush out the salt in the morning. Several applications will show a marked improvement in the appearance of the hair.

The bridge wrinkle, it is said, is the latest facial acquirement, and it is not at all liked by those upon whom it has been thrust. The "frowner" is in great demand in consequence, and some women are giving up bridge just because it makes any woman who plays constantly look old and wrinkled before her time.

Diphtheria before antitoxin days was a more dread enemy of child life than it is now. But even in these days there may be emergencies when doctors are far away and the mother longs to do something to stop the progress of the disease. One mother caught in such a strait made her little girl drink lime-water freely. The child got well, and the doctor, called in later, laid it to the mother's ingenuity.

WAS IT "LUCK" OR WAS IT "PLUCK?"

"Our remedies oft in ourselves do lie, Which we ascribed to heaven; the fated sky Give us free scope, only doth backward pull Our slow designs when we ourselves are dull."

Bill said that, in "All's Well That Ends Well." The more one reflects over some saying of Bill's the more one wonders if, after all, his head didn't hold all the wisdom of the world.

A young man scarcely over 39 came to the Iowa Legislature this year from a town in an old Dutch settlement in the northern part of that State.

Five years ago that young man was a laborer on his father's farm. Today he is a successful practicing lawyer, with one of the biggest practices in that section. His father was an immigrant to this country from Holland, and until five years ago this boy tilled the acres on his father's farm.

But he conserved his time and improved his mind under the lamp light in the old farm kitchen. He studied law through a correspondence course. During the summers he couldn't study much and do justice to his job.

But in the course of three or four years he had mastered the intricacies of the laws of contracts, and torts, and person relations, and all the other branches. He passed, with his self-education, one of the best law examinations ever turned into an Iowa examiner. He moved to town, and went into an abstract office, and hung out a sign saying that there was "G. Klay," lawyer. He joined the town chess club, incidentally and played tennis.

Other lawyers used to laugh at some of his pleas, and the chess experts to consider him rather small game, while any college youth home from vacation for the summer could wipe the courts with him at tennis. But he kept on plugging.

Now the lawyers don't laugh at him when they're conducting a case against him, nor the politicians when he is running for office, nor yet the chess and tennis players, when he is on the other side of the board or the net. He's come into his own.

He has introduced into the Legislature a dozen measures which have passed and carried one bill by the force of his argument against a hostile force, and already he is being mentioned for a Congressional nomination two or four years hence.

There is a man who has made use of the mind and hands the Almighty gave him—who has not dissipated his talents—who has cultivated every one of them as the modern conversationalists would have us cultivate our land. So he's become a success.

All this may seem trite and commonplace enough. There's a lesson of the same sort in every community.

But that's the lesson that is hard to get through the head of the modern youth—that there is no rut, that there is no luck, that opportunity is a word that should be spelt "universal," that every man in his own making; the arbiter of his own fate, and that if he will take himself into his own hands and mold himself, that he will be what God Almighty intended him—a whole man.

THE FUTURE IN TURKEY.

The capitulation of Yildiz Kiosk and the surrender of the Sultan but begins the troubles and perplexity of the leaders of the parliamentary army.

The more deposition of the Sultan is a simple matter. A Caliph, by the sacred Moslem law, can be deposed by a process of which there are many precedents and examples. He is elective in theory. He holds subject to the judgement of those learned in the law and the faithful gathered in the mosques of the capital. If they substitute another name for his in the prayer on Friday under the legal advice of the Sheikh-ul-Islam the Caliph is deposed. The "recall" is a thousand years old in Mohammedanism.

There is no difficulty in getting rid of a powerless and defeated Caliph and Sultan in the East, but the West has its say in this case. Kaiser Wilhelm is the Sultan's close personal friend. A German fleet of cruisers is arming now to go to Turkish ports. Austria can, at a moment's notice, launch a strong mobilized army in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Bulgaria would be but too ready to aid. In Turkey, itself, Abdul-Hamid has few supporters and no friends. He is hated the Empire over. There may be risings in his favor, but it is not probable, though always possible, for in all the East there is a great semi-nomadic population, always ready to move, as in the dire massacre now in progress.

Europe is the peril. No change can be made in Constantinople to which either of the two halves of the European concert seriously object—Germany and Austria, on one side, England and France on the other. It is ominous for the Sultan that no European Ambassador was present Friday at his stately passage to the mosque. They are always there.

This looks as if he were personally abandoned. So does the absence of any remonstrance from Berlin or Vienna. The succession is probably the one care now. He wants his son. By Moslem law his successor is the next oldest male in the direct line—"agnate." This is Reschad Effendi, a nice old man of 65, who would do as he was bid by the Ministers selected by Parliament and the army leaders.

If he is selected the Parliamentary army has won a complete triumph. Almost anything else will be a compromise, due to pressure from Berlin.

THE PENALTY OF GREED.

If Chicago reports are to be accepted at face value James A. Patten of wheat corner notoriety has been compelled to abandon the speculative pit on account of shattered nerves, which threatened a general breakdown. He is out in New Mexico for a season of ranch life and a change of air and environment. Also he has developed a testy temper, which he displays in resenting the fact that he has been "hounded by reporters for weeks." Meantime the corner that he created appears to be vanishing, along with the profits of venturesome smaller speculators who hoped to get away with some of the loot.

All of which information the American public will read with complacent satisfaction. There will be little sympathy with Mr. Patten in the penalty he is compelled to pay for his greed. In his distant retreat let him take time to consider just what his spectacular campaign has meant to the rest of the country. This may not do much to settle his nerves, but it will scar his conscience and teach him a lesson he has been too slow to learn. No man can impose harsh condition upon his fellow men, either in business or in their struggle for existence, and then hope to go scatheless. He may be beyond the reach of written law and above the possibility of material reprisal, but he cannot escape the force of public opinion nor get away from the consciousness of his own misdeeds and the distress which is their natural fruit. None will pity Mr. Patten and few will envy in his present state of mind and body.

The Second Great Debate on the Prohibition Question.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 28, 1909.—Dr. tails have been arranged for the second in the series of three great debates on the prohibition question between Mayor David S. Rose of this city, opposing prohibition, and Dr. Samuel Dickie of Alton college, the accredited representative of the national prohibition party. The debate will be held at Orchestra Hall, Chicago, Friday night, April 30, and the interest that the Milwaukee debate aroused in every part of the country promises to be even greater on this occasion. The Milwaukee debate in March resulted in some sharp attacks on Milwaukee by the prohibitionist speaker, and as Mayor Rose is an ardent defender of the Milwaukee situation, it is probable that the far will fly in earnest at the coming debate. The question will be the same as debated at Milwaukee, "Resolved that prohibition as applied to the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquor is right," but there will be a slight change in the speaking arrangement. Dr. Dickie will lead for an hour, Mayor Rose will follow for an hour, Dr. Dickie will have half an hour for rebuttal and Mayor Rose will close with the same time for rebuttal.

The seating arrangement will be the same as during the Milwaukee debate. The two speakers will pay the cost of the debate, each will be allotted 100 tickets, and the entire balance of the seating capacity of Orchestra hall will be turned over to various Chicago business and commercial organizations, in proportion to their registered membership.

At Milwaukee there were nearly 6,000 persons in attendance, and the Chicago debate promises to attract even greater attention. These debates have been compared to the historic debates on slavery between Abraham Lincoln and Steven A. Douglas, inasmuch as they are between the accredited national representatives of the wets and dries of the entire country.

Woman's Home Companion for May.

The burden of our changing social order falls upon our daughters, called the Woman's Home Companion for May, and this magazine shows by striking examples and figures how topsyturvy is our way of training girls.

In this same issue is a charming article by Margaret Sangster, showing that the millionaire mother is by no means as black as she is painted. Mary Heaton Vorse, in her own inimitable style proves that if we are fat it is our own fault.

In more serious mood is a trip through the Metropolitan Museum of Art with Sir Casper Pardon Clarke as guide. This valuable article is illustrated by exquisite reproductions of famous paintings. Other articles of interest are "The Art of Economy," by Mrs. John Van Vorst, and "The Commuters of New York," by Aldert Bigelow Paine. "An Imperial Wraith," by Clara Morris, contains charming reminiscences of the Empress Eugenie. "Lucy Green," a friendless seventeen-year-old girl, tells how she went to Boston penniless, in search of a job and how she got one. "Afrail" is a story in Zola Gale's exquisite style. "Hearts and the Highway" has Cyrus Townsend Brady's usual swing and dash, and "The Four Adventuresses" is another story by Halbert Footner, whose freshness and humor have established his reputation.

This issue of the Woman's Home Companion is distinguished by two features a poem entitled, "The Grandmother," by James Oppenheim, and a full-page drawing by Harrison Fisher, showing Margaret and Gerard from "The Cloister and the Hearth."

Pain Weakens

Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and without any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses in 25 cents; never sold in bulk.

"I was subject to constant headaches for a period of four years. At times I was almost unfitted for the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result has been that I have entirely eradicated my system of those continuous headaches that follow a continual mental strain. They have done for me all that is claimed for them."

O. L. RUSSELL, Agent, C. & N. W. Ry., Battle Creek, Ia. "I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for a year now for neuralgia and find there is nothing like them. They surely have been a blessing to me."

TWO GRATEFUL, HEALTHY WOMEN.

We are heartily glad that we learned about Peruna.

Thank you for the good Peruna has done for me.

I was a sufferer for twenty-two years, to-day am well.

MISS NORA KELLEY

Wonderful Good From Per-na. Miss Nora Kelley, R. R. 1, Box 121, London, Ohio, says:

"I write to thank you for the wonderful good your Peruna has done for me. I was a sufferer from kidney and other internal troubles for twenty-two years. Two years ago I began to take Peruna and I only took about three bottles and to-day I can say I am a well person."

Catarth of Internal Organs. Mrs. B. H. Jackson, R. F. D. 5, Newnan, Ga., writes that she had catarrh of the internal organs for more than a year, and that Peruna entirely relieved her.

Cramps in Stomach. Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant St., Watsonville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with cramps in the stomach for six years. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so thought I would give it a trial. I have taken nineteen bottles and am entirely cured. Have gained in strength and flesh, and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

LOCKED IN CAR FOUR DAYS

Like a Ghost When Released. Elmira, N. Y., April 28.—Locked in a box car for four days and nights without any food or water, Charles Connors, of Chester Springs, Can., looked like a ghost when he was helped from a Lackawanna train here. Connors had been working in Chicago as a laborer. On Saturday night he had something to eat there about 6 o'clock. He went to the railroad yards and climbed into a box car, intending to go as far as Kingston, Ont. He fell asleep, and when he awoke he found the car had been locked and sealed and had started for the east. Tuesday a brakeman heard hammering and shouting inside the car and Connors' rescue followed.

CROKER ON WAY HOME

Pleased With His American Visit, He Leaves For Ireland. New York, April 28.—Sailing on the Lusitania today was Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall, who is bound for his home in Ireland. Before sailing Mr. Croker expressed his delight with his stay here of several months, during which he visited Palm Beach, Fla.; Washington and other places. His visit to the national capital was marked by a call at the White House.

MRS. PAULINE WINTERS HAUSEN

Internal Catarrhal Trouble. Mrs. Pauline Winters Hausen, 211 29th Ave., West, Duluth, Minn., writes:

"I want to say a good word for Peruna, as it has cured me of two trouble-some diseases. I was troubled for five years with eczema on the hands, and a severe internal trouble combined with nervousness. For two years I used remedies without lasting benefit. Four bottles of Peruna cured both my troubles entirely, so that no trace of them is left. I feel better than I ever did before, which I owe to Dr. Hartman and Peruna."

"I shall be glad to answer any inquiries that come to me in regard to this letter. Peruna is unsurpassed by any medicine for these troubles. We are heartily glad that we learned about the Peruna."

"Dr. Hartman has answered every letter that I sent him free, and does for every one who applies to him."

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it by analysis. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

260 PERSONS IN ROOSEVELT PARTY

Spent His First Night in Africa Under Canvass.

HAS AN IMPOSING CARAVAN

Four Headmen, Nine Gun-Bearers, Twelve Armed Guards and 200 Porters Awaited Mr. Roosevelt—Lions Prowling Around the Camp—Ex-President Rode on Cow-Catcher.

Kapiti Plains, British East Africa, April 24.—Theodore Roosevelt has reached the hunting grounds, and spent his first night in Africa under canvass. A big camp has been established near the railroad station here for the Roosevelt expedition, and during the night lions were prowling about in the vicinity of the tents. The country is green owing to the recent rains, and there is every prospect of good sport. The commoner varieties of game are plentiful, and the hunters will lose no time in getting started on their shooting trip.

Only the members of the party got off the train at Kapiti Plains. F. J. Jackson, the acting governor of the protectorate, and the other officials who came up from Mombasa continued on to Nairobi.

The camp established for Mr. Roosevelt is most elaborate. The caravan will have a total of 260 followers. There are thirteen tents for the Europeans and their horses and sixty tents for the porters. An American flag is flying over the tent to be occupied by Mr. Roosevelt. All the native porters of the expedition were lined up on the platform when the Roosevelt special pulled in, and as Mr. Roosevelt stepped down from the train they shouted a salute in his honor. In response Mr. Roosevelt raised his hat.

Mr. Roosevelt was welcomed at the station by Sir Alfred Pease, who will be his host on the Athi river. Mr. Roosevelt is dressed in a khaki suit and a white helmet.

Mr. Roosevelt was on the cow-catcher of the engine when the train pulled in, having occupied that position for the seventy-nine miles between Makindu and Kapiti Plains. He said he was intensely interested in the country and expressed his gratitude and delight at the hospitality shown him by the acting governor and Mrs. Jackson.

The caravan awaiting the Roosevelt party includes four headmen, nine gun-bearers, twelve armed guards, 200 porters and nine horses.

Mr. Selous is going on a lion hunt with Mr. McMillan. He is not attached to the Roosevelt party, the only members of which are licensed to shoot lions are Mr. Roosevelt and Kermit.

GASTRO ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Delivers a Rambling Harangue Against the United States.

St. Nazaire, April 24.—The steamship Versailles, with Cipriano Castro, the deposed president of Venezuela, aboard, arrived here.

Before Senator Castro left his cabin he sent for a newspaper correspondent and, sitting up in bed with a night cap on his head, delivered a long and rambling harangue. His remarks were directed principally against the United States for "playing into the hands of his enemies in Venezuela and sending warships to follow his movements." He declared that Venezuela was lost if the people submitted like slaves to foreign meddling.

Castro prepared to go to Paris.

19 PERSONS DROWNED

Norwegian Steamer Sunk in Collision Off Christiania.

Christiania, Norway, April 24.—Nineteen persons were drowned off Christiania by the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Edith after collision with the British steamer Oxford.

Those who went down were the captain and his wife, one passenger and sixteen members of the crew.

VIOLENT COW KILLS CHILD

Little Girl Was Playing With a Calf When Attacked.

Uniontown, Pa., April 24.—A vicious cow, with whose calf Mary Brown, eight years old, was playing, attacked the child and killed her before help arrived. The child entered the stall where the calf was alone. Her father, Henry Brown, not seeing the child, turned the cow into the stall.

Chums End Lives at Same Time.

Allentown, Pa., April 24.—Charles W. Hersh, twenty-nine years old, fired a bullet through his head at the home of his parents in Allentown. Less than three hours later Dr. Harry Hill, aged thirty years, Hersh's chum while they attended the University of Pennsylvania, went to the home of his parents in Bethlehem and shot himself. The bullet grazed his heart and paralyzed his spine. He died.

Rich Farms: Gets Black Hand Letter. Canonsburg, Pa., April 24.—Brown McClelland, one of the richest farmers of Washington county, received a black hand letter demanding that he place $5000 under the northeast corner of his barn, under penalty of having his home and family blown up with dynamite and his barn burned.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS

And you will generally find that they know of more good, intelligent people, those of good sense and discernment in your vicinity who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's World-famed Family Medicines than by all other proprietary medicines. They have been making these cures right along for over forty years and altogether likely you will easily find people all about you who will be only too glad to say a good word for them. These old reliable curatives are not exploited or urged upon the afflicted by extravagant and false promises but have a record of real, genuine cures to sustain them.

Among women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is truly a favorite by reason of its remarkable cures which, for over forty years by far exceed those which can be credited to any medicine extant. By a little inquiry you will no doubt find some of these cured and grateful cases in your immediate neighborhood, for they are to be met with practically EVERYWHERE. They are Dr. Pierce's best advertisements. Seek their advice if you are a poor despondent over-burdened broken down, weak, or pain-wracked woman, suffering from some derangement or weakness incident to your sex.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser in plain English, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., (new fully revised up-to-date edition) gives all particulars which women need to know about their peculiar functions and how to correct ordinary derangements and weaknesses. Cloth-bound volume of 1000 pages, 31 one-cent stamps, or in paper covers for 21 cents, post-paid. Why not send for it NOW? The New Edition is almost a household necessity.

THE SULTAN A PRISONER

Constitutionalists In Complete Control In Turkey.

2000 KILLED IN BATTLE

Abdul Hamid Permitted to Remain in Palace—He Will Be Dealt With by Parliament, and It Is Certain His Reign as Absolute Monarch Is Over. Martial Law Declared in Constantinople.

Constantinople, April 26.—The Young Turks have taken Constantinople and the reign of Abdul Hamid as an absolute monarch is over. The sultan is a prisoner of the Constitutional army. The Yildiz garrison troops surrendered. Niaz Bey, who is called the hero of the July revolution, is now in command of the garrison. Two thousand men were killed during the fighting.

Sultan Abdul Hamid has been permitted to remain within the walls of the Yildiz Kiosk, where, in company with his ministers, he waited for the outcome of the struggle between the loyal troops and the army of investment, each hour bringing to him word of a fresh disaster. It has been stated, since victory rested with the Constitutionalists, that the sultan himself gave orders to his men not to resist, gave orders to his men not to resist.

A representative of the commander-in-chief of the Constitutional forces is authority for saying that the sultan will be dealt with by the parliament, and that there will be an adequate inquiry into the sovereign's alleged complicity in the recent mutiny. Up to the present the ministry has not been dissolved, but Constantinople and a number of other places have been declared in a state of siege. Martial law prevails, and while there is some uneasiness among the people, order has been maintained with a strict hand.

Following Saturday's terrific fighting, the city took on an aspect of strange quiet towards evening. There was some fear that there would be further fighting during the night, as the forces of General Scheffer were strongly posted close to the palace. But beyond a few scattering shots there was nothing to disturb the peace of the city.

Received Bulletins of Fighting.

The sultan summoned his grand vizier, Tewfik Pasha, and the minister of war, Edhem Pasha, to come to him when the guns first began to sound Saturday. They remained with him throughout the day and received bulletins of the disaster from time to time. The sultan's bearing is described as troubled. He was silent and outwardly calm.

The bridges had been picketed and small parties of cavalry had reconnoitered the ground. After desultory firing, just before dawn, a strong advance was made in the southwest part of Pera. The attacking forces spread out in a long line and made an assault upon the Matchka and Tasch Kischla barracks, south of the palace, where they met with a stubborn resistance.

The invaders continued to advance in three columns with the utmost precision and occupied all the points of vantage. Almost immediately the loyal soldiers in the Aash Kischla barracks on the opposite hill opened with a deadly fire, but notwithstanding that many of them fell, the Salonki troops did not hesitate in their advance, but slowly and cautiously, bringing up their machine guns, which eventually resulted in silencing the garrison. There were heavy losses on both sides.

THOUSANDS MASSACRED

25,000 Dead in Adana and Other Places Burned and People Slain.

Beirut, April 26.—The situation in Asiatic Turkey is one of extreme gravity. How many thousands have been massacred cannot even be estimated, because the disturbances have been so widespread that it is impossible to secure details of the happenings during the past ten days. The latest estimates of the number killed in the vilayet of Adana reaches approximately 25,000, and thousands have been done to death in the towns and other districts. The state of siege which several places are undergoing has brought their inhabitants to the verge of starvation, and each day brings its tales of further atrocities and the depths of misery and despair to which the savagery of the fanatics has brought the people.

Several warships are now in these waters, but the disorders are so far-reaching that the efforts of the powers to restore normal conditions have as yet hardly been felt.

10,000 Besieged by Fanatics.

One of the missionaries at Alexandretta, Mr. Kennedy, with 450 Turkish troops, has gone to the relief of Deurtul, an Armenian village on the coast, where 10,000 people within the walls are besieged by immense bands of Kurds and Circassians. Only two days ago a British warship returned from that place, the governor of the district having refused the commander permission to land a relief party. The water supply has been cut off from the town and the besieged are suffering greatly on that account. The children are drinking out of animal tracks after a shower. There was incessant firing on Greek subjects sent out under an escort.

Confirmation has been received of the burning of the Armenian village of Kessab. All the men and many women and children have been slain. The American property at Kessab was destroyed. Miss Chambers, an American missionary, is safe.

All the property of the Christians at Djebel Bereket has been destroyed. The total loss is unknown, but it will be enormous. Reports state that Hadjin, in the vilayet of Adana, is on fire. There are five American women quartered here, including Miss Lambert, who has been sending out appeals for help; Miss Virginia A. Billings and Miss Bowman. The authorities have refused permission to Messrs. Lawson and Chambers, also American missionaries, to go to their relief. Frantic appeals for protection and for food are coming in from all directions.

WORLD'S SUFFRAGISTS MEET IN LONDON

Women of Sixteen Nations Are Represented.

London, April 26.—In this city, the scene of the militant activities of the English suffragettes, delegates representing the woman suffragists of sixteen nations met today in convention to report on the progress of the work and make plans for the furtherance of the movement. The International Woman Suffrage alliance will remain in session until May 1.

The president of the alliance is Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of New York; the first vice president is Dr. Anita

REV. ANNA H. SHAW.

Angsburg, of Hamburg, and the secretary is Rachel Foster Avery, of Swarthmore, Pa. The National American Woman Suffrage association is represented by its president, Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, of Philadelphia; Mrs. William M. Ivins, of New York; Mrs. Lydia A. Coonley Ward, of Illinois; Mrs. M. La Reine Baker, of Washington; Rev. Mary A. Safford, of Iowa, and Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, of New York.

The public meetings of the congress will be addressed by men and women of international reputation. The English suffragettes have invited the delegates to a mass meeting in Royal Albert hall during the week, and this invitation has been accepted by the International alliance.

$5000 REWARD FOR GIRL

Daughter of Wealthy New Yorker Is Strangely Missing.

New York, April 26.—Five thousand dollars is now offered by Arthur E. Boas, a wealthy thread manufacturer, for information leading to the recovery of his thirteen-year-old daughter, Adele, who strangely disappeared last Friday afternoon.

William Rose, an attorney, who is conducting the search for the missing girl, is having placards prepared on which a photograph of the child is reproduced. These will be posted conspicuously throughout the city.

COTTON MILL MEN MEET

Leaders of the Industry Interested in Boston Textile Exhibition.

Boston, April 26.—Opening today and remaining open until May 1, an exhibition of textile machinery, mill supplies and general mill products will be held in Mechanics' building in this city. The National Association of Cotton Manufacturers are greatly interested in the exhibition and will hold their annual business meeting and convention in the building this week.

The convention will bring together the leaders of the cotton manufacturing industry from all parts of the country, as well as the makers of mill machinery.

Shrubb Defeats St. Yves.

New York, April 26.—Alfred Shrubb, of Horsa, Eng., once more proved himself the greatest middle distance runner in the business by defeating Henri St. Yves, of France, at the American League grounds. At no time was the result of the race in doubt.

The Weather.

Forecast for this section: Showers today, followed by fair; cooler in north portion; tomorrow, fair; moderate west to north winds, becoming variable.

ARMY MOVES AGAINST SULTAN

Constitutional Forces Within Two Miles of the Palace.

PANIC IN THE CAPITAL

Rumor That Invading Army Was to Enter Constantinople and Fighting Was Inevitable Caused a Wild Rush For Safety—Sultan Appears in Public and Is Cheered.

Constantinople, April 24.—The advance of the concentrated army of investment began Friday afternoon. While the favored troops of the Constantinople garrison were giving homage to the sultan on Yildiz hill there was a forward movement of the Constitutional forces on that side of Pera to within two and a half miles of the Yildiz Kiosk. Cavalry went out to reconnoiter and squads were sent to picket the bridges across the Sweetwaters. A party of fifty American tourists, just arrived, who were driving in carriages in that direction, were turned back by horsemen. Infantry was then observed advancing and rumors spread throughout the city that the army was about to enter the capital and that fighting was inevitable.

There was a veritable panic, with much running to and fro and cries of alarm. Shopkeepers in a large part of Pera put up their shutters. The British ambassador, Sir G. A. Lowther, was caught in a swirling crowd near the embassy, and hundreds of frantic persons poured into the embassy compound, imploring asylum. The gates of the embassy were closed with difficulty. The outposts of the invaders remained within about two miles of the palace. On that side the city is entirely open, the fortifications having been planned to resist an approach by water.

It is impossible to say at the present time just what are the intentions of the leaders of the Constitutionalists, who represent two factions, the radical and the conservative. Evidently the Constitutionalists are of two minds with regard to the ruler of their country. The parliamentary deputies, who held sessions at San Stefano, seem to be in favor of his deposition, but the splendid reception which was accorded the sultan on his appearance in public was a graphic demonstration of the fact that his majesty retains a strong hold on the hearts of his people. He was acclaimed by thousands on his way from the gate of the palace to the white mosque outside the walls of the Yildiz Kiosk, while picked detachments of troops lined the route and stood at salute, as though to do his smallest bidding.

No guarantees of any kind have been given to the sultan by the Constitutionalists, either with regard to his retention on the throne or the security of his person. The Constitutionalists have practically control of the government and are taking up a passive attitude towards the sultan. Tewfik Pasha, the grand vizier, and his associates in the cabinet, have agreed to carry out the wishes of the parliament.

7000 MORE SLAIN

Armenian Population of Antioch Is Wiped Out by Moslems.

Constantinople, April 24.—Moslem massacres are growing in horror in Asia Minor. Word was received from Beirut that in the ancient city of Antioch and vicinity the Armenian population has almost been exterminated. About 7000 Armenians lived in Antioch.

Thousands of destitute Armenian widows and orphans are still in the district, unable to get away. There is no security anywhere near Antioch.

Fugitives who arrived at Alexandretta relate that all the Armenian villages and settlements in the Alexandretta district are being destroyed. Nearly every Armenian dwelling has been burned by the fanatical Moslems, and the Armenians still surviving are living in the open, half starving and in great fear.

U. S. Cruisers Sail For Turkey.

Guantanamo, Cuba, April 24.—The United States armored cruisers Montana and North Carolina are now on their way to Asiatic Turkey, under orders to proceed as swiftly as possible. They left here ready for a record-breaking run. Both ships carry a large force of marines, who can be utilized if necessary in helping to preserve order in the disaffected districts.

Ex-Bandit Turns Lecturer.

Tulsa, Okla., April 24.—Cole Younger, once a notorious bandit member of the Jesse James gang of bank and train robbers, made his debut as a lecturer on "The Lessons That Might Be Drawn from Past Life."

To Honor First Union Volunteers.

Washington, April 24.—Senator Dick has introduced a bill to give bronze medals of honor to all surviving soldiers who answered the first call for troops issued by President Lincoln.

Peter F. Collier Dead.

New York, April 24.—Peter F. Collier, founder and publisher of Collier's Weekly, died suddenly of apoplexy at the riding club.

RACING BY ELECTRIC LIGHT

St. Yves and Shrubb to Run Fifteen Miles Tonight.

New York, April 24.—Finding the indoor long distance running game a little too wearing on the contestants at this season, the promoters of tonight's fifteen mile race between Henri St. Yves, winner of the Marathon Derby, and Alfred Shrubb, the English runner, have made arrangements to have it run outdoors, on the grounds of the local American league base ball team.

The park has been equipped with a lighting system that will make not only the stands, but every inch of the ball field, as light as a sunny afternoon. The spectators will see a splendid race unless it rains tonight.

St. Yves holds the British champion in supreme contempt and says he can beat him at any distance from ten to fifty miles. Shrubb is just as confident. A special prize will be hung up by the promoters of the race for a new record. The professional record for the distance is 1 hour 22 minutes, and was made by J. Howitt at Irlington, March 22, 1852.

LISBON ROCKED BY EARTHQUAKE

King Manuel Appears on Streets to Reassure People.

Lisbon, April 24.—A series of violent earth shocks occurred here, and seismic disturbances, according to reports from various places, were felt throughout the whole of Portugal. For a time fears were entertained of a repetition of the great earthquake of 1755, which demolished the city, but luckily these fears were not realized.

No material damage was done, although the ground rose and fell in a wavelike motion; buildings swayed and the walls of a number of old houses were broken. No one was hurt, but in various parts of the city fires broke out and a condition of great alarm prevailed.

Several of the broken walls threaten to collapse, and it is believed that some of the churches have been damaged in their interiors. King Manuel, accompanied by his aides, appeared on the streets and took a prominent part in encouraging the firemen and reassuring the terrified population.

The house of lords, which was sitting at the time, was thrown into a great panic. Several of the members were thrown to the floor, and it seemed as though the walls of the building would be forced in. The edifice, however, withstood the shocks well, and there was no perceptible damage.

[MRS. SCOTT ELECTED

The Administration Candidate Now Heads the D. A. R.

Washington, April 24.—By a vote of 436 to 428, Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, of Illinois, was declared elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution over Mrs. William Cummings Story, of New York. Mrs. Scott's election was a victory for the administration faction. A number of delegates refused to make the election unanimous on Mrs. Story's motion.

Many Saloons Wiped Out.

Norfolk, Va., April 24.—Judge White, in Portsmouth, restricted the liquor licenses for Norfolk county, including the Ocean View and Pine Beach summer resorts as never before known. He refused all licenses outside the Ocean View and Pine Beach enclosures, and granted only one license each within those enclosures. The licenses in Norfolk county were reduced from about fifty to fifteen. Many saloons are wiped out.

Millionaire's Auto Kills Girl.

Milwaukee, April 24.—Colonel Gustave Pabst, while driving an automobile, accidentally ran down and killed Lillie Winkler, aged fourteen years. The girl had just alighted from a street car when she walked in front of the automobile.

Lieutenant of Marines Found Dead.

Manila, April 24.—Lieut. Albert H. Brunzell, of the First Brigade Marines, has been found dead in the rear of his quarters at Olangapo with his throat cut. It is not known whether he committed suicide or was murdered. The naval authorities are investigating.

Commissioner Capers Critically Ill.

Washington, April 24.—John G. Capers, commissioner of internal revenue and Republican national committeeman from South Carolina, is critically ill as the result of an operation performed Monday last for the removal of a mastoid abscess.

Packing Your Winter Clothing?

Then you ought to know of

Red Cedar Flakes

the modern mothicide that takes the place of the cumbersome old red cedar chest and the ill-smelling moth balls.

Red Cedar Flakes combine all the good moth-killing qualities of red cedar and moth balls, without a single one of their bad qualities.

They are so convenient to use, too.

Each garment can be packed away separately in trunk or bureau drawer. You simply sprinkle Red Cedar Flakes in a fold of paper, then wrap up and put away your garments.

We sell a generous sized package for 15c.; two for 25c. Full directions in each package.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

A few of the young men of the town with some of the college boys held a small dance in the Bush Arcade Assembly Hall Wednesday evening. Dancing until the fire alarm blew.

Thursday morning about 1:30 o'clock the incubator in Rev. J. Allison Platte back yard set fire to his chicken coop. An alarm was turned in but the fire was soon extinguished without serious damage.

Mrs. Mary Ann Johnston whose birthday was Tuesday was agreeable surprised when a number of her lady friends dropped in on her Tuesday. Mrs. Johnston soon got over her surprise and all had a delightful time.

Charles Lukensbach, who has been laid up with rheumatism the past six weeks, has so far recovered that he is able to be up and around and Thursday walked from his father's house on Willowbank street into town.

It is evident the man at the electric light station who blows the alarm has taken our advice as the alarm Thursday morning was clear and distinct and any person could tell at once what ward the fire occurred in.

The first advertising car of Cole brothers circus, which will exhibit in Bellefonte the latter part of May, is heading this way and it will not be long until the flaming posters will announce the coming of the elephant.

While working at a powder mill at Emporium last Friday Harry G. Bowes, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bowes, of State College, was struck by a belt and instantly killed. He was forty years old. The remains were buried at Emporium on Monday.

Miss Elizabeth B. Bower, a student at The Pennsylvania State College, has now the Julia K. Hoag testimonial prize for the best essay on Pennsylvania. The prize is $50 and is awarded each year for the best essay on a given subject written by any girl student in the State.

Mrs. Mary Sebring, of Jersey Shore mother of John P. Sebring, of Halfmoon township and grandmother of Dr. Sebring, of this place, fell down a flight of three steps last Friday night and fractured her hip bone. As she is ninety-one years old the injury is quite a serious one and may keep her confined to bed a long time.

It is to be hoped the street committee will get rid of some of that unhealthy mud and future dust while the streets are in shape that it can be scraped and shoveled. With the dirty filthy top coat off and then a nice rain the streets would lose their disease breeding tendency and the catarrhal troubles and throat and bowel diseases that are around the town would be lessened.

A young fellow is canvassing the town selling a neat mission clock and a year subscription to Hampton's Magazine for $3.85, a good many are taking it to get the clock. The magazine is having an enormous sale at the news-dealers, Mr. Bush having increased his sales over five hundred per cent on the May number. The five big feature articles besides the many stories containing 144 pages of reading makes it a record breaker in the magazine line.

The Bellefonte furnace blew out its fire Wednesday in the stoves, stoves and boilers for an indefinite shut down, though it is hoped it will not be for very long, on account of the market for iron. The furnace ran along so well and kept going all through the greatest stringency and then on the eve of the good times that were promised some time ago but which are slowly getting better to shut down makes it quite hard on the men thrown out of work.

The Witter Lumber company, of Sunbury, which has been operating in Centre county for a number of years past, last week purchased from J. N. Schoonover, of Philipsburg, the timber land in Clearfield county belonging to the estate of the late B. D. Schoonover, which adjoins the tract they recently secured from the heirs of the Forney estate. This gives them the largest tract of virgin timber yet remaining in that section of the State and will keep them busy cutting the timber for several years.

Off to the Navy

This week William M. Gates and Joseph Palmer, two brakemen on the Tyrone division of the P. R. R., resigned their positions and left for Pittsburgh where they will be examined for an enlistment in the United States navy. The lads claim that they have had a desire to be attached to this branch of the United States service for quite a while and now that they have an opportunity to enlist they are going to do so. Gates is a member of Company B, Fifth regiment, N. G. P., and has been employed in Tyrone since last October. His parents, three brothers and a sister live at Mt. Eagle on a comfortable farm. He made a splendid soldier and should have no trouble at all learning to be a good sailor. Palmer's home is in Clearfield. He has never been attached to any branch of the service before. An enlistment in the navy means that a man must give up home and associates for at least four years, while on the other hand the experience derived from being a sailor is worth a whole lot as the boys will likely see many ports all over the world while in Uncle Sam's service and at the government's expense.

Must Tell How He Spent $14,000.

William Miller, a well known resident of Sunbury, recently acquired considerable money, and a short time after married for the second time. The new wife, the sons of the first wife assert took a fancy to Miller's money and has been spending it, according to the allegations of the two boys, at a rapid clip. Fearing that when Miller died his fortune would be exhausted, the sons began action to have him declared incapable of conducting his affairs. Witnesses testified that Miller and his wife have been spending lots of money. Mrs. Miller being alleged to be by far the better spender of the two. Miller was reputed to be worth $40,000. Judge Sayridge gave him several days in which to prepare a statement of how he spent $14,000. If the statement is satisfactory to the court the case will be dismissed.

HEARTY WELCOME EXTENDED

Delightful Reception to Rev. James B. Stein and Family

One of the most delightful social events held in Tyrone in years was the reception tendered by the members of the First Methodist Episcopal church to their new pastor, Rev. James B. Stein, D. D. and family, on Thursday evening. The large auditorium and galleries were well filled with members of the church and Sunday school who had gathered to welcome to our midst Dr. Stein. The pulpit and choir loft were beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, palms, ferns and carnations. As the members of the church entered the large edifice they were met at the different doors by a reception committee of young ladies, who extended a hearty welcome and escorted the people to comfortable seats.

The program of the evening was opened with a delightful musical number on the pipe organ, than Rev. Martin L. Tate, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, was introduced and in his address welcomed Dr. Stein in behalf of the ministry of Tyrone. A. A. Stevens, Esq., extended greetings from the congregation, while the Sunday school was represented by W. A. Bouse, the faithful superintendent of that organization. R. Holmes Thompson, representing the Epworth League, made a splendid little address in which Dr. Stein was heartily welcomed to that organization.

Rev. Stein, the pastor, was then introduced and in a happy manner thanked everyone in behalf of himself and family for the many kind words of greeting extended to them. He closed his little speech by saying that he hoped that at the end of his ministry in Tyrone the farewell would be as warm and kind as the greetings.

After all had met and heartily shaken the hand of Dr. Stein, a social hour followed during which excellent refreshments were served. The reception was held under the auspices of the Epworth League and was conceived and so ably carried out under the management of Miss Belle Agnew, president of the league, who was assisted by Miss Gertrude Ramsey, the efficient head of the social department of that organization, that all could not help but enjoy the evening. —Tyrone Herald.

Boys Eat Poison Berries, One Dead From Effects.

One of five Potter county boys who ate wild berries the other day died from the effects of the poison, the story of which is told in Thursday's Potter County Enterprise as follows: "Theodore H. Nelson, the four-year-old son of Oscar Nelson and wife, died at his home at the tannery from poisoning. During the afternoon the little fellow together with four of his little playmates while playing in the woods near the tannery, found some red berries, which they proceeded to eat. The little boys soon became sick and going home informed their parents of what they had eaten. Dr. Ashcraft was called and succeeded in saving all of the little lads with the exception of the Nelson boy who had eaten a great many more of the berries than the other boys. The other children poisoned were two sons of Mrs. John Dudas, one son of John Hanley and one son of Frank Dudas, all ranging from four to seven years."

GO TO LAW OVER A DOG.

Interesting Case in Which P. J. Heslin's Canine Figures.

Friday's Ridgway Democrat gives the following particulars of an unusual law suit in which the prosecutor is P. J. Heslin, the Johnsburg cigar manufacturer and as assor, who formerly resided here:

A dog case from Johnsburg occupied the attention of 'Squire Schirk's court for a time yesterday afternoon, and was of more than passing interest.

From the testimony offered at the hearing it appeared that the prosecutor in the case, P. J. Heslin, the Johnsburg assor, was the owner of two young dogs, and that last Friday morning they set upon L. G. Baker, the Johnsburg confectionery man, as he was hurriedly passing along the street. He had an ice saw in his hands at the time, and swinging this about him, it came in contact with the fore leg of one of the dogs, fracturing it so that it was thought best to put the animal out of misery by chloroforming it.

For his share in the matter Mr. Baker was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Heslin. The hearing was held last Saturday night before a justice of peace at Johnsburg who after listening to the testimony produced, decided to discharge the defendant.

This the prosecutor regarded as a miscarriage of justice and he next began action before Squire Schirk, of this place. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney E. H. Baird and the defendant by Attorney D. J. Driscoll, of St. Marys. A number of witnesses were sworn and after the lawyers had been heard, the justice decided to hold the defendant for court in the sum of $200 bail, which was given, so that the end of this particular dog case is not yet.

As an item of interest it might be added that the name of the dog that is dead as a result of the encounter is "Bryan," while the other rejoices in the appellation of "Teddy," which, perhaps accounts for its good luck in evading the saw which Mr. Baker wielded with so much effect.

Wm. Doll Buys a Four Ton Ice Plant for His Own Use.

Our enterprising little doll baker has gotten busy and is not going to get left on the ice question, for the future he has purchased and hopes to have all set up and running in a few weeks a four ton ice plant which would be capable of making four tons of ice a day, but he is buying it with the arrangement so that half the plant will operate a refrigerating plant in which ice cream, cream and fruits etc can be kept without the use of ice at all, and in far better condition being nice and clean all the time.

The plant will be erected in what is the present ice house in rear of the Bush Arcade using part of it for the plant and part for the storage of surplus ice needed in cases of emergency occasioned by the breaking down of the machinery or some thing of that nature.

He is to be congratulated on his investment and it is hoped that it will make good for him, for not being dependant on nature in the future. It is possible that he will have some ice for sale at all times and it will be in demand for some purposes on account of its purity.

Death of Miss Mary Bodle.

Miss Mary Bodle, daughter of William Bodle, of Buffalo Run, died in Philadelphia Saturday evening at 7 o'clock of typhoid fever after an illness of three weeks duration. Last fall she went to Philadelphia to learn to be a trained nurse and it was while nursing a typhoid patient that she herself contracted the disease which resulted so fatally.

She was eighteen years of age and a very bright and intelligent young lady. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn their loss, three sisters and three brothers.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon. Interment in Meyers cemetery.

Fire at Pine Grove Mills.

On Sunday evening at 6 o'clock the large barn on the William H. Bailey farm, near Pine Grove Mills, was struck by lightning and set fire to. In a short time it was burned to the ground with all of its contents consisting of hay, straw, oats and corn, harness, farm implements, 200 young chickens and some old ones, together with several out buildings.

Fortunately the barn was near town and the citizens hastened to the scene in time to remove the horses and cattle thus saving their lives.

The loss is placed at $3500 fully covered by insurance in the Centre Hall Fire Insurance Company.

Married.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton on Penn street, was the scene of a very pretty but quiet wedding on Wednesday evening at 8:30 the contracting parties being Miss Helen Hamilton and Mr. Edward Franks of Milesburg. Both the young folks are well known and have a host of friends who wish them much joy on the sea of matrimony.
